

Locally Noteworthy | Small Business Candidates' Showcase is Thursday

This week

The Greater Kansas City Chamber of Commerce presents its Small Business Candidates' Showcase on Thursday. See Business Calendar, D27.

Equipped

CCS Presentation Systems, a national audiovisual equipment company, has opened a Kansas City regional office at 13900 W. 108th St. in Lenexa. The company said the office has five employees, led by brothers Mike and Brian MacGee, and hopes to expand to a dozen employees by the end of the year. CCS, based in Scottsdale, Ariz., installs and maintains equipment such as interactive whiteboards, projectors, LCD and plasma displays, audio systems and document cameras for schools, business and government.

Cockpit endorsed

Garmin International said Monday that it has received supplemental type certification from the Federal Aviation Administration for the G1000 avionics suite in the King Air 200 and B200. The G1000 is at the high end of Garmin's digital cockpit offerings and integrates all primary flight information, navigation data, communications, terrain awareness, traffic, weather and engine instruments, the company said in a news release.
