CCS Recognized as a Top Private Company in 2011 Arizona Corporate Excellence Awards

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (October 7, 2011) – CCS, the largest audio and visual integrator in the Southwest, today announced that it was recognized as a Top Private Company for 2011 by the Phoenix Business Journal in its annual Arizona Corporate Excellence (ACE) awards in September, which honored Arizona’s largest and fastest-growing private companies.

CCS, a multi-year ACE award recipient, earned its highest ranking to date in 2011 by placing 42nd in revenue among Arizona’s top 50 privately held companies. The ACE awards are open to Arizona private companies across all industry sectors and represents the best of 2011.

“Our customers and employees make our success possible,” said CCS Founder and CEO, John Godbout. “Placing on the ACE list in multiple years is a great benchmark for the growth of our company and affirms that we are providing the best possible service and value to our customers, which keeps them coming back to us year after year.”

CCS serves customers in the corporate, government and educational sectors. The company sells, installs and services equipment as well as trains clients to use A/V technology. CCS offers multiple product lines to enhance presentation effectiveness and customer experiences including interactive SMART™Boards, LCD & plasma displays, projectors and control systems.

CCS Earns 2011 ACE Award

In 1991, Godbout launched the business with his wife, Beth, a few clients and a little sweat equity. Giving up his 20+ year sales job with IBM, he found the focus of the new business would be A/V after realizing people were more interested in the flat panel projector he was using during his presentation than the software he was trying to sell them. The two person operation has expanded throughout Arizona and created a sales network with offices located in 13 states and annual revenue in excess of $105 million.
