CCS Employees and Partners Combine Efforts to Benefit Phoenix Charities
Helped UMOM New Day Centers, Phoenix Rescue Mission, Sunshine Acres and
City of Phoenix

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (Jan. 23, 2012) – Scottsdale-based audio visual (A/V) integrator CCS, recently completed its deliveries of several hundred needed items to four Valley charities: UMOM New Day Centers, Phoenix Rescue Mission, Sunshine Acres Children’s Home and the City of Phoenix’s Human Services Department.

More than 115 employees personally donated items and CCS and its manufacturer partners provided funds that were used for additional supplies and food.

“With the help of our team and partners, we were able to fill nearly our entire training center with items,” said Julie Solomon, manager of marketing & business development. “Our Committee for Community Support helped deliver the necessities like food, clothing and toiletries to the four different destinations. It was really wonderful to see and learn more about the organizations we are helping.”

CCS demonstrates their passion for giving back to nonprofit organizations year round. Through their internal Committee for Community Support, CCS identifies charities that are important to its employees and are already planning an initiative for the spring.

Additionally, the company donates thousands of dollars and equipment each year to educational institutions and organizations throughout the Valley, such as Mission for Children in the inner city of Phoenix. CCS also has held a “Classroom Solutionz” technology grant opportunity for three consecutive years to help educators fund tech tools needed to improve the learning process for students.

CCS serves customers in the corporate, government and educational sectors. The company sells, installs and services equipment as well as trains clients to use A/V technology. CCS offers multiple product lines to enhance presentation effectiveness and customer experiences including interactive SMART™ Boards, LCD & plasma displays, projectors and control systems.
