CCS Presentation Systems' CFO Recognized as a Finalist

Financial Executives International Arizona Chapter Hosts CFO of the Year awards

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (November 19, 2009) – CCS Presentation Systems, the largest audio visual company in the Southwest, announces the recognition of Chief Financial Officer, Jack Seaver, by the Financial Executives International Arizona Chapter as a finalist in their annual CFO of the Year awards.

Mr. Jack Seaver, Chief Financial Officer of CCS Presentation Systems has been with the company for 11 years and has been instrumental in the company's expansion to several states over the past 10 years. From establishing policies, procedures, controls and audit checkpoints to handling human resource duties for their staff of 100+ employees, his dual role has been an integral part of the company's success.

"There's no doubt in my mind our company wouldn't be where it is today without Jack," said John Godbout, Founder and Chief Executive Officer of CCS Presentation Systems. "His stabilizing influence and sound, level-headed conscience has had a tremendous influence on our organization."

CCS serves customers in the corporate, government and educational sectors. The company sells, installs and services equipment as well as trains clients to use a/v technology. CCS offers multiple product lines to enhance presentation effectiveness and customer experiences including interactive SMART™ Boards, LCD & plasma displays, projectors and projection screens. Founded in 1991, CCS was started by a husband and wife team and has grown into one of the largest a/v integrators in the U.S. with more than 300 employees and 26 sales offices in 13 states.
