CCS Presentation Systems Introduces SITE Partners Program for Arizona Architects and Commercial Contractors

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. – (September 10, 2009) – CCS Presentation Systems, the largest integrator of audio and visual equipment in the Southwest, today announced the launch of its Systems Integration and Technology Education (SITE) Partners Program for Arizona’s Architects and Commercial Contractors.

The partnership will improve collaboration between CCS, architects and commercial contractors helping to make audio visual planning part of the initial design process. The partnership will include:

- Priority access to CCS’s Integration Team and Design Engineers for consultations
- Ongoing Education Series with AIA accredited lunch and learn sessions
- Use of CCS-Scottsdale’s 50-seat training center and innovative presentation tools for large meetings and events
- Discount equipment rental fees
- Inclusion in the SITE Partner Incentive Program
- Priority access to CCS’s Manufacturer Partner Showcase facility for client design meetings and guided tours
- Priority access to CCS’s high definition video conferencing space

“Due to the increasing demand for a/v technology, we developed this program to strengthen knowledge sharing and enhance working relationships between our industries,” said John Godbout, founder and CEO of CCS Presentation Systems. “It will also help create richer customer experiences and improve client satisfaction – two important outcomes for builders and a/v integrators.”

CCS serves customers in the corporate, government and educational sectors. The company sells, installs and services equipment as well as trains clients in the use of a/v technology. CCS offers multiple product lines to enhance presentation effectiveness and customer experiences including interactive SMART™ Boards, LCD & plasma displays, projectors and projection screens. Founded in 1991, CCS was started by a husband and wife team and has grown into one of the largest a/v integrators in the U.S. with more than 300 employees and sales offices in 13 states.
